

IARC

In February 2006, the International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC), an agency of the United Nations World Health Organization, changed the classification of TiO2 to possibly carcinogenic to humans (2B). This Monograph was published in January 2011 as Monograph 93 and can be accessed at:

http://monographs.iarc.fr/ENG/Monographs/vol93/index.php

The Titanium Dioxide Manufacturers Association (TDMA), a European Chemical Industry Council (CEFIC) sector group, of which Tronox is a member, has issued a paper explaining the background and opinion on this listing which can be accessed at http://www.tdma.info/positions-statements

Safety Data Sheets for TiONA® and TiKON™ products refer to the IARC listing in section 11 and may be accessed at https://www.tronox.com/products/titanium-dioxide/ to select the product, select Titanium Dioxide Pigment, then select Application (Paint & Coatings / Plastics / Paper / Printing Ink) and Region.

Please contact Tronox Product Stewardship with questions regarding this statement, ChemProdSteward@tronox.com

April 2020

The information set forth herein is furnished free of charge and based on technical data that Tronox believes to be reliable, to the best of knowledge. Nothing herein is to be taken as license to operate under or a recommendation to infringe any patents. This information and our technical advice - whether verbal, in writing or by way of trials -are given to the best of our knowledge but without warranty, and this also applies where proprietary rights of third parties are involved. Our advice does not release you from the obligation to check its validity and to test our products as to their suitability for the intended processes and uses. The application, use and processing of our products and the products manufactured by you on the basis of our technical advice are beyond our control and, therefore, entirely your own responsibility. Our products